PSD, JAF sign air cooperation agreement

The Jordan Armed Forces-Arab Army (JAF) and the Public Security Directorate (PSD) on Sunday signed an air cooperation agreement. The agreement included merging the PSD's Air Wing with the Royal Air Force, in addition to the provision of air services from the Royal Air Force for the PSD if the need arises, mainly for search and rescue operations, evacuations, and exceptional and emergency incidents. Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Maj. Gen. Yousef Huneiti, during the ceremony, said that the new agreement is part of the ongoing coordination between the armed forces and the PSD in various fields. PSD Director Maj. Gen. Hussein Hawatmeh said that unifying air missions under the umbrella of the armed forces' Royal Air Force is the best choice for more coordination and efficiency in carrying out duties and missions, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported.

Cabinet approves discount on property taxes, GAM fees with conditions

The Cabinet on Sunday approved offering a discount on taxes, fees, royalties and compensations, as well as exemptions including due fines for the Ministry of Local Administration and the Greater Amman Municipality. Under the decision, a deduction was granted on the property taxes, as well as sewage fees imposed in 2021 and the previous years for residential and agricultural buildings by 10 per cent for cash payments, while 15 per cent for e-payments, until the end of June 30, 2021. The reduction also included the commercial and industrial buildings, as well as investment and tourism facilities by 20 per cent for cash payments, while 25 per cent for e-payments, until the end of June 30, 2021. The exemption also included overdue property tax fines for the previous years if the payment is made before the end of June 30, 2021.
