LSE lures investors, highlights depositary receipts

London Stock Exchange (LSE) and Deutsche Bank, in partnership with Al Mawared Brokerage, a subsidiary of Investbank are holding a conference on depositary receipts on Monday, as part of their on-going efforts to develop new financial products. The conference is also held in cooperation with the Amman Stock Exchange (ASE), according to a statement received by The Jordan Times from the conference organisers. The Jordan Securities Commission (JSC), the capital markets regulator, has recently issued new regulations regarding the issuance, listing and trading of depositary receipts. At the conference, experts and senior managers from LSE and Deutsche Bank will highlight opportunities for Jordanian public shareholding companies to issue depositary receipts and list them on the LSE.

Jordan, Kenya to sign FTA before year-end — minister

Jordan and Kenya are expected to sign a free trade agreement (FTA) before the end of the year, Minister of Industry, Trade and Supply Yarub Qudah said on Saturday. At a ceremony marking the launch of the Jordanian-African Business Association, Qudah said that both countries are scheduled to start negotiations over the FTA next month. The agreement would facilitate the penetration of Jordanian products into the Kenyan market, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. The deal would also provide incentives to help Jordanian items compete in Kenya's market, the minister added.
