Jordan 'committed' to IMF-supervised reform plan

Jordan said on Monday that it is fully committed to the $700 million Extended Fund Facility (EFF) with the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Jordanian officials will soon meet with IMF representatives to brief them on the situation in Jordan and present a national economic and fiscal reform plan that will be in line with the IMF programme and help realise its objectives, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of State Rajai Muasher said on Monday. "The national programme that we will discuss with the IMF will take our needs, priorities and conditions into account," said Muasher in a meeting with media representatives. In 2016, Jordan and the IMF reached the 36-month EFF programme under which the two sides agreed on six conditions that aim at reducing public debt to safe levels and stimulating the economy. Under the deal, Jordan is expected to generate around JD520 million dinars in additional revenues this year alone.

European Investment Bank plans investments worth $991mIn in Jordan

The European Investment Bank (EIB) has announced its preparations to finance 15 projects in Jordan, allocating 850 million euros to fund a number of sectors including water, sewage, public transport, renewable energy, small and mid-range companies and micro-finance companies. The bank's vice president, Dario Scannapieco, made this announcement during the opening session of the eighteenth annual EIB conference in Amman, titled "Improving Lives and Creating New Opportunities — the EIB's Economic Resilience Initiative (ERI)", which met to discuss plans to improve living conditions in countries south of the Mediterranean Sea,

U.N. urges Jordan to open borders to fleeing Syrians

The United Nations human rights office and refugee agency UNHCR urged Jordan on Tuesday to open its border to Syrians trying to escape an escalating conflict in the southwest region of Deraa. An estimated 270,000 people have fled air and ground attacks over the past two weeks, the United Nations said on Monday "We call on the Jordanian government to keep its border open and for other countries in the region to step up and receive the fleeing civilians," U.N. human rights spokeswoman Liz Throssell told a news briefing.
