Gov't to review Audit Bureau's reports

Head of the Lower House Financial Committee Khalid Bakkar, on Monday said that the government's delay in reviewing the Audit Bureau's recommendations has led to a critical financial stage and forced the country to resort to loans. During a meeting attended by the Audit Bureau president, Abed Kharabsheh, Bakkar said that the committee will establish a mini committee to review the Audit Bureau's reports submitted to the Lower House, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. Kharabsheh said the Audit Bureau issues its report every four months upon the Lower House's request, however, it does not have a law enforcement agency to refer violations to the judiciary.

Increased Jordanian-Turkish cooperation to benefit region

Increased Jordanian-Turkish synergy will significantly help move towards a better Middle East and overcome common challenges in various arenas, Turkish Ambassador in Amman Mourad Karagoz said in an interview with The Jordan Times. "Jordan and Turkey face common challenges. The two countries enjoy deep and distinguished ties and they need to join forces to work and cooperate for a better Middle East, a matter that will play a key role in fulfilling desired objectives," the ambassador said on the occasion of the 95th anniversary of the founding of the Turkish Republic, which the embassy will mark on Monday. The official proclamation of the Turkish Republic by Mustafa Kemal Ataturk took place on October 29, 1923, when the name of the nation and its status as a republic were declared. A vote then took place in the Grand National Assembly and Ataturk was elected first president of the Republic of Turkey by a unanimous vote.

Severe weather causes 'over JD1 million' in agricultural losses — farmers

Farmers in the Jordan Valley have reported losses worth well over JD1 million following last weekend's extreme weather, the Jordan Valley Farmers Union said on Monday. Dozens of farmers in the Jordan Valley's northern, central and southern areas suffered losses in crops and infrastructure on Thursday because of strong winds that reached 100 kilometres per hour, according to Jordan Valley Farmers Union President Adnan Khaddam. "Some 300 farmers were affected by the extreme weather on Thursday. The very strong winds damaged citrus trees, greenhouses and banana farms. The financial losses are huge and [worth]
