UK minister reiterates support to Jordan ahead of London investor conference

Minister of planning and international cooperation in the caretaker government Imad Fakhoury on Monday met with UK Minister of State for International Development Alistair Burt and discussed means to boost development cooperation and the importance of supporting Jordan, a Planning Ministry statement said. During the meeting, the two officials stressed the need to support Jordan's economy and development in light of the challenges that Kingdom is facing due to the regional instability. They underscored the need for the international community to "fully honour its commitments" and continue supporting the Kingdom to enhance its economic resilience and maintain the provision of services for refugees. Fakhoury voiced Jordan's appreciation for the UK's continuous support to the Kingdom, before discussing a conference on Jordan that will be held in London towards the end of 2018. Burt reaffirmed the commitment to the UK-Jordan partnership ahead of the investor conference, expressing the British commitment to supporting the Jordanian government in creating jobs and boosting economic growth. Fakhoury and Burt went over the implementation of the memorandum of understanding that was signed by the two countries in November 2017 during the

Outcomes of Mecca summit warmly welcomed

His Majesty King Abdullah on Monday renewed appreciation for Gulf countries for supporting Jordan. Senior officials, lawmakers and sector leaders also thanked Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the UAE for pledging $2.5 billion to help revive Jordan's economy at summit in Mecca early Monday. In a Tweet, His Majesty said: "We highly appreciate the noble gesture of our brothers in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the UAE, especially the good initiative of my brother King Salman Bin Abdulaziz towards our country in light of the challenges facing it. The Mecca meeting is a true embodiment of fraternity and solidarity among Arabs. God bless the Arab Nation and God bless our beloved Jordan". Prime Minister-designate Omar Razzaz expressed on Monday the Kingdom's appreciation for the three countries for the economic aid package they have offered to enable Jordan to overcome economic challenges. In remarks to journalists following a meeting with secretaries general of political parties, Razzaz voiced gratitude for Arab brothers who always stand by the Kingdom, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. In this regard, he commended the

Funding issues behind scrapping nuclear deal with Russia — JAEC

The Jordan Atomic Energy Commission (JAEC) said Monday it scrapped a $10 billion deal with Russia to build the country's first nuclear power plant as the Russians requested securing the necessary finance for the project via commercial loans. "Jordan and Russia held a meeting last year to discuss means to move forward with the project and how to secure necessary finance for the plant... The Russians requested obtaining loans from commercial banks, which would have increased the cost of the project and the prices of generated electricity. The Jordanian government rejected the proposal," JAEC said in a statement e-mailed to The Jordan
