Macroeconomic & Corporate News

Jordan, European Investment Bank discuss priority projects

Jordan and the European Investment Bank (EIB) on Monday discussed prospects of further cooperation in priority fields, on the backdrop of the bank's decision to increase funding of its three-year Economic Resilience Initiative to 15 billion euros. The issue was discussed during a meeting in Amman between Minister of Planning and International Cooperation Imad Fakhoury and EIB's Vice President Dario Scannapieco. The priority sectors agreed upon include renewable energy, energy efficiency, transportation, roads, finance and banking and the increase of private businesses' share in economy, a ministry statement said. According to the EIB, the initiative came in response to a call from the European Council to increase financing to EU's neighbouring countries and support the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals.

YTL Power's Jordanian Project Gets $1.5b Chinese Funding

The Attarat Power Plant project secured financing from Chinese banks and construction will start this year after delays, the $2.1b oil shale-fueled power plant will have gross generation capacity of 554MW which was first mooted in 2008, according to Edge reports.

'Recently endorsed JSC regulations favour int'l investment opportunities'

The new regulations governing the issuance, listing and trading of depositary receipts will entitle Jordanian companies to increase their revenues through a presence in international stock exchange markets, financial experts agreed at a conference on Monday. Experts said that the recently endorsed regulations of the Jordan Securities Commission (JSC) will allow companies access to larger capital, and will enhance investment opportunities at an international scale. Under the new regulations, Jordanian public shareholding companies can issue depositary receipts, enabling them to join the international stock exchange markets, including the London Stock Exchange (LSE).
