Revenues in the first quarter of this year stood at JD78.5 million, 5 per cent less than the JD82.7 million in the same period last year, Petra reported, adding that real estate sales to non-Jordanian investors in the first three months of 2017 stood at 632 transactions, 479 were for apartments and the rest for land, at an estimated value of JD88.7 million.

Britain allocates $1.24billion for Syrian refugees, host countries

Britain has allocated 1 billion pounds ($1.24 billion), including 160 million pounds of new money, to help Syrian refugees displaced by six years of civil war and countries that host them. International donors are expected to pledge billions more dollars in aid for Syria at a two-day conference in Brussels from Tuesday that the European Union says must also help prepare for an eventual end to the war. Prime Minister Theresa May, who was in Saudi Arabia after a visit to Jordan, will focus the extra British funds on creating jobs and providing education for the refugees, the government said in a statement sent by its Middle East Media Hub in Dubai. The funds include 840 million pounds of pledges made at a Syria aid conference in London in February last year.

Jordan's exports to US reaches $1.7bln

Minister of Industry, Trade and Supply Yaroub Qudah said that the value of Jordan's exports to the U.S. market stood at $1.7 billion, noting that it is mostly focused on the sector of garments and textile. During a roundtable discussion at the Jordan Business Association on Tuesday, the minister said that the government is exerting efforts to expand non-traditional markets for Jordanian exports that declined by 19 percent during 2014-2016 due to the current situation in the region. The government's efforts he said are focused on the American and EU markets, adding that it is also exerting efforts to enter the African market and overcome obstacles and administrative procedures that prevent the flow of Jordanian goods to this market.
