Market Review

The fund was up by 6.88% while the benchmark was up by 4.11%. The solid performance was mainly attributed to our overweights in indices that had a good run this month such as Dubai, Abu Dhabi & Qatar while underweighting Kuwait Oman & Jordan which all closed the month in the negative territory. DFM continued its stellar performance, surging another 13.65% this month and hitting 6 year highs, essentially backed by results coming out of the real estate sector and beating consensus, accompanied by positive views from the management over the coming years as the Emirate's economy booms, in addition to more project announcements. Another supporting factor for the UAE markets this month was a statement confirming an initial agreement to merge the two main stock markets in the Emirates, the Dubai Financial Market and the Abu Dhabi Securities.

Elsewhere, April started off positively in Asia after the Chinese official PMI survey showed manufacturing managed to continue expanding in March, and although U.S based fund managers cut their equity exposure and recorded the highest cash position since December, markets managed to close the month in positive territory following the solid U.S retail data announcement and better than expected earnings from large corporations. Market volatility is heading higher with rising geopolitical tensions between Ukraine and Russia, and there is also growing fears over a lackluster economic situation in Europe.

Market Outlook

Regionally, indices are hitting fresh multi year highs recording levels not seen since 2008, and with UAE markets' exceptional performance, the fund manager is taking some risk off the table by realizing gains in overweights and off benchmark bets, with a prospect to re-enter on better levels.

In the UAE and Qatar, the focus continues on MSCI emerging market inclusion; the announcement of the exact constituents and their weights will be out on the evening of the 14th of May, with passive investors expected to enter the market on the 29th of May. In KSA, Q1 earnings season was the major headline for April and the market is expected to continue its uptrend for the coming period but on lighter volumes as summer time approaches.

In Egypt, the focus shifts towards the presidential elections taking place on May 26-27, with Former Egyptian army chief Abdel Fattah al-Sisi facing only one competitor - leftist Hamdeen Sabahi. Many are awaiting the results as a sign of stability and giving more confidence to international investors.
