King meets with heads of state, business leaders and gov't officials on sidelines of WEF

His Majesty King Abdullah on Saturday met with various heads of state, leading businesspeople and representatives on the sidelines of the World Economic Forum (WEF) on the Middle East and North Africa being held at the Dead Sea. King Abdullah held separate meetings with Nigerian President Muhammadu Buhari, Djiboutian President Ismaïl Omar Guelleh, Armenian President Armen Sarkissian and Afghanistan Chief Executive Abdullah Abdullah, according to a Royal Court statement. The meetings' discussions covered Jordan's ties with these countries, as well as efforts to counter terrorism within a holistic approach. The Palestinian cause was also discussed, with King Abdullah stressing the need to reach a just and lasting peace based on the two-state solution, guaranteeing the establishment of an independent Palestinian state along the June 4, 1967 lines with East Jerusalem as Palestine's capital. Foreign Minister Ayman Safadi and Adviser to His Majesty and Director of the Office of His Majesty Manar Dabbas attended the meetings.

Jordan, Egypt inaugurate gas line compression station development project

Minister of Energy and Mineral Resources Hala Zawati on Saturday met with her Egyptian counterpart Tariq Mulla to discuss joint projects between Jordan and Egypt in addition to strategies linked to energy saving and the diversification of energy sources, especially natural gas. The meeting, held in Aqaba, also tackled ways of benefitting from the expertise of Egyptian companies in developing the Kingdom's infrastructure to best utilise natural gas. In a statement carried by the Jordan News Agency, Petra, Zawati reaffirmed the presence of exceptional fraternal relations between Jordan and Egypt, pointing to their cooperation on issues of petrol and gas. The two ministers also inaugurated the Egypt-Jordan gas line's main compression station development project.

Panama seeks expanded relations, cooperation with Jordan in all fields — vice president

Vice President and Foreign Minister of Panama Isabel de Saint Malo de Alvarado said Panama is keen on increasing cooperation with Jordan and strongly believes that there is a huge room for cooperation with the Kingdom in several sectors. Panama identified Jordan as one of the countries with which it is keen to strengthen ties as the two countries have many things in common and as Panama values Jordan's role in this region and the world "as a mediator and a stabiliser and a country that promotes peace and understanding", the vice president said in an interview with The Jordan Times and Al Rai.
