Macroeconomic & Corporate News

Finance minister briefs Cabinet on real estate market

The Council of Ministers, headed by Prime Minister Hani Mulki, on Sunday listened to a presentation by Finance Minister Omar Malhas on economic indicators related to the real estate market in the Kingdom, which witnessed an increase in apartment sales in July. Malhas noted that 3,673 apartments were sold during July, adding that this was the “highest” monthly sales in eight months, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. The council had previously decided to extend the exemption of registration fees for apartments or individual housing units, with areas not exceeding 150 square metres, for a full year until November 30, 2017. The decision also includes the exemption of fees for apartments of up to 180 square metres, with the first 150 metres covered by the exemption, but the additional space subject to registration fees.

Jordan signs financing pact for Salt Ring Road project

Planning and International Cooperation Minister Imad Fakhoury on Tuesday signed a soft loan agreement worth $46.27 million, provided by the Arab Fund for Economic and Social Development, a ministry statement said. The agreement, which will contribute to financing the Salt Ring Road (Eastern Section), was signed by Abdul Latif Al Hamad, chairman and managing director of the fund. During the signing ceremony, Fakhoury expressed appreciation for the fund’s “continuous support” to the government’s development efforts as it faces economic and social challenges, in light of the regional circumstances. The Arab Fund has played an “important role” in supporting Jordan in fulfilling the needs of refugees, as well as the host communities, the minister said. Fakhoury noted that the project aims to improve land transport services in the city of Salt and the surrounding areas, to absorb and divert part of the increasing traffic in the city centre and reduce traffic accidents and congestion, the statement said. The project includes the construction of a 22 km-ring-road around the city of Salt, 35km northwest of Amman, allowing transit traffic to pass by the city without entering it.
