Kenya pledges economic incentives for 500 Jordanian products

State Minister for Investment Affairs Muhannad Shehadeh on Wednesday said that Kenya has pledged to consider granting customs incentives to 500 Jordanian goods to enter the Kenyan market, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. At the opening of the Jordanian-Kenyan Business Forum in the Kenyan capital Nairobi, the minister said that the Kenyan side promised to accelerate the registration of Jordanian pharmaceutical products in Kenya and to organise a Kenyan week in Jordan with the participation of businesspeople from Kenya. He said that the visit of a Jordanian business delegation to Nairobi is part of an African tour organised by the Jordan Investment Commission in cooperation with the Jordan Chamber of Industry, with the participation of 30 companies, adding that the visit aims to boost relations with African nations.

Jordan, Saudi Arabia to sign agreement to connect power grids today

Abdel Fattah Daradkeh, director general of the National Electric Power Company (NEPCO), said that Jordan and Saudi Arabia will sign an agreement on Thursday to connect both countries' electric grids, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. The connection will help reduce the load of oscillations and will boost the two countries' reliance on renewable energy. The agreement came from the framework of the 2nd International Conference for IT Applications in the Development of Renewable Energy Systems and Processes for Intelligent Cities, which was organised by University of Petra's ICT collage in cooperation with the National Research University Higher School of Economics of Moscow. Daradkeh stressed that the cooperation between the ICT and the renewable energy sectors could help in solving many problems that are facing renewable energy fields.

New IFAD-financed project supports small ruminant production

Nearly 12,000 rural families will benefit from a new financing agreement signed last month between Jordan and the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), according to a statement from the fund.

The $12.8 million Small Ruminants Investment and Graduating Households in Transition Project (SIGHT) will ensure that small ruminant producers receive support from the public and private sectors for services that will enhance the effectiveness of small-scale livestock production systems and the incomes of small producers, the IFAD statement said.

The agreement, which was signed by IFAD's president, Gilbert F. Houngbo and the minister of planning and international cooperation, Imad Fakhoury, includes a concessional loan of $8.4 million, as well as two grants. The first is a $0.5 million grant, while the second is a $3.9 million grant from IFAD's Facility for Refugees, Migrants, Forced Displacement and Rural Stability (FARMS) to increase support for rural communities affected by forced displacement and migration, including both host communities and communities of origin for refugees, internally displaced persons, returnees and vulnerable migrants.
