Plan launched to stimulate economic growth over 5 years

His Majesty King Abdullah on Wednesday chaired a meeting of the Economic Policies Council to launch a plan to stimulate economic growth during the next five years, a Royal Court statement said. Later in the day, the Cabinet approved the plan during its evening session, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. The blueprint aims to revive the momentum of the economic growth and benefit from the available development capabilities in the Kingdom through creating sectoral economic and financial programmes to frame the visions and policies related to each sector. The plan also seeks placing Jordan on the path of sustainable development, to build a strong economy that is able to remain resilient in the face of regional and international challenges and minimise dependence on foreign support by expanding and multiplying economic and investment opportunities, the statement said. The programme is also designed to generate jobs and develop human resources, in addition to preparing governmental institutions to be able to provide quality services. During the meeting, His Majesty stressed the importance of rendering the plan a success, which, he said, is achieved when citizens feel a positive change in their livelihoods.

Japan extends grant to IOM Jordan

The government of Japan on Wednesday extended to the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) Jordan a grant of $612,650 to finance the project titled "Providing humanitarian support to refugees and strengthening the border management capacity of the government of Jordan to enhance border security", according to an embassy statement. The announcement came following a roundtable discussion to support Jordan in launching national consultations within the framework of the "Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration". The compact was adopted at the UN summit in September 2016 and aims to be the first inter-governmentally negotiated agreement addressing migration issues. The discussion was held in the presence of Shuichi Sakurai, Japan's ambassador to the Kingdom, as well as Jordanian, IOM and UN officials.

Egypt imposes fees on Jordanian refrigerated trucks

The Egyptian government's recent decision to impose fees on Jordanian refrigerated trucks entering the country will negatively impact truck owners and drivers, a sector leader said on Tuesday. Mohammad Kheir Dawood, head of the Jordan Truck Owners Association, explained that truck owners currently have to pay $100 (nearly JD71) per truck for each trip from May 1 to June 30. After May 30, truck owners will either have to pay $300 (around JD213) for each trip or $1,000 (around JD710) for all trips until the end of this year, he said, noting that the agreement governing transportation of refrigerated trucks between the two countries is renewed annually.
